Welcome back to school!

This week our main focus was on rules. We discussed the importance of rules, and why we have them. We started working in our social studies journals highlighting rules at home and at school. We have also been reviewing daily procedures. I am looking forward to another great week!

Notes:

- Please make sure your child has a black, 3 subject spiral notebook with dividers! A few students did not have this in their supplies, and we will be using it for our reading curriculum.
- I hope to see you all at Parent Information Night on Wednesday! I will be discussing our weekly homework along with the first grade curriculum. I will not be sending homework until after PIN. Of course it is always good to read with your child every day! 😊
