Reading

- This week in our readers workshop we began our fiction unit! The students are learning how to tell if a book is fiction.

Language Arts

- This week in language arts we began talking about nouns. We learned about how the names of people and animals are all nouns.

We will continue to discuss nouns further next week.

Math

- This week in math we started talking about subtraction. The students are learning different strategies to use when solving subtraction problems.

Science

- We had a very fun week in science! We have been working with sound waves. The students conducted two hands on experiments to learn about how we use sound waves. More to come next week!

Religion

- In religion we began talking about saints. In preparation for the All Saints Mass we will be learning about a couple saints in the coming weeks. This week we learned about St. Francis of Assisi and St. Michael the Archangel.

Notes:

Next week our homework will remain the same, even though we do not have school on Monday. We will take our spelling pretest on Tuesday. As always we will take the simple solutions and spelling tests on Friday.
